

RECRUITMENT PRIVACY POLICY

Scope of privacy notice

1. This Recruitment Privacy Notice comprises this document and the Supplementary Information in the Annex to this document.

Like most businesses, we hold and process a wide range of information, some of which relates to individuals who are applying to work for us. This Recruitment Privacy Notice explains the type of information Omnicom, Drury Porter Novelli (“we”, “us”, “our” or “Omnicom”) process, why we are processing it and how that processing may affect you. This Recruitment Privacy Notice is a privacy notice that we must provide to you in accordance with Irish data protection laws, including the General Data Protection Regulation (EU) 2016/679 (“GDPR”) and the Data Protection Act 2018 (“DPA”), as such laws may be amended and supplemented from time to time (“data protection law”). It focuses on individuals who are applying to work for us and the data we process as part of that process. We have a separate Workplace Privacy Notice that applies to our current and former employees.

Omnicom is a “controller”. This means that we are responsible for deciding how we hold and use personal data about you. It is important that you read this Recruitment Privacy Notice so that you are aware of how and why we are using your personal data.

The section entitled Supplementary Information contains a Glossary, in which we explain what we mean by “personal data”, “processing”, “special categories of personal data” and other terms used in this Recruitment Privacy Notice.

2. In brief, this Recruitment Privacy Notice explains:
 - what personal data we hold and why we process it;
 - the legal grounds that allow us to process your personal data;
 - where the data comes from, who gets to see it and how long we keep it;
 - how to access your personal data and other rights; and
 - how to contact us.

Personal data – what we hold and why we process it

3. We hold various types of data about the individuals who apply to work for us, including their personal details and work history. Further examples of the types of data we hold are given in the Supplementary Information.

We process this data for the purposes of our business, including management, administrative, employment and legal purposes. The Supplementary Information provides more specific information on these purposes.

See Further information on the data we process and our purposes.

Legal grounds for processing personal data

4. Under data protection law, there are six grounds on which we can rely when processing your personal data. In some contexts, more than one ground applies. We have summarised these grounds as Contract, Legal Obligation, Legitimate Interests and Consent,¹ and you can find further information on each in the Supplementary Information. See Legal grounds for processing personal data.

Where the personal data comes from and who gets to see it

5. Some of the personal data that we process about you comes from you. For example, you tell us your contact details and work history as part of the recruitment process. If you are joining us, you may provide your banking details.

Other personal data may come from third parties such as recruiters acting on your behalf or from your references.

Your personal data will be seen internally by our managers, our HR department and, in some circumstances (if you join us) colleagues. We will where necessary and as set out in this Recruitment Privacy Notice also pass your data outside the organisation, for example to people you are dealing with and background checking agencies.

Further information on this is provided in the Supplementary Information. See Where the personal data comes from and Who gets to see your personal data?

How long do we keep your personal data?

6. We do not keep your personal data for any specific period but we will not keep it for longer than is necessary for our purposes. In general, if you become employed by us we will keep your personal data for the duration of your employment and for a period afterwards. If you are unsuccessful in gaining employment with us, we will likely keep your personal data for a short period after informing you that you were unsuccessful.

See Retaining your personal data – more information in the Supplementary Information.

Transfers of personal data outside the EEA

7. We may transfer your personal data outside the EEA to members of our group and processors in the United States, India, Philippines, Canada, and Mexico.

Further information on these transfers and the measures taken to safeguard your personal data are set out in the Supplementary Information under Transfers of personal data outside the EEA – more information.

Your personal data rights

8. You have the following rights(subject to some conditions and limited exceptions contained in data protection law) in connection with the personal data we hold about you:
 - (a) to make a subject access request to receive information about the personal data that we process about you. Further information on this and on other rights is in the Supplementary

Information under Access to your personal data and other rights. We also explain how to make a complaint about our processing of your data;

- (b) to request correction of the personal data that we hold about you. This right enables you to have any incomplete or inaccurate information we hold about you corrected;
- (c) To request erasure of your personal data. This right enables you to ask us to delete or remove personal data where there is no good reason for us continuing to process it. However, where we hold and process your personal data in order to comply with legal obligations, such as compliance with tax requirements and exemptions, or for the establishment exercise or defence of legal claims, your right to ask us to delete or remove your personal data is limited;
- (d) to object to our processing your personal data where we are relying on a legitimate interest (or those of a third party) in order to justify the basis for our processing your personal data and there is something about your particular situation which makes you wish to object to processing on this ground;
- (e) To request that we restrict processing of your personal data. This right enables you to ask us to suspend the processing of your personal data, e.g., if you want us to establish its accuracy or the reason for processing it; and
- (f) To request the transfer of your personal data to another party where you provided that information to us.

Status of this notice

10. This Recruitment Privacy Notice does not form part of any contract of employment you might enter into and does not create contractual rights or obligations on us. It may be amended by us at any time.

ANNEX TO CORE NOTICE
SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION

Glossary

1. “Personal data” is information relating to you (or from which you may be identified) , directly or indirectly, in particular by reference to an identifier such as a name, an identification number, location data, an online identifier or to one or more factors specific to the physical, physiological, genetic, mental, economic, cultural or social identity. It includes not only facts about you, but also intentions and opinions about you.

“Processing” means doing anything with the data. For example, it includes collecting it, holding it, disclosing it and deleting it.

“Special categories of personal data” means personal data revealing racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, health, sexual orientation, sex life, trade union membership and genetic and biometric data. These types of data are subject to special protection under the law.

References in the Recruitment Privacy Notice to “employment”, “work” and similar expressions include any arrangement under which an individual works for us or provides services to us or applies to provide services. This includes individuals who are our employees and also those who provide services under a freelance or independent contractor arrangement. Similarly, when we mention an “employment contract”, this should be taken to include any contract with an employee, a freelancer or a contractor; and when we refer to ending your potential “employment”, that includes terminating a freelance engagement or a contract for services.

We use the word “you” to refer to anyone within the scope of this Recruitment Privacy Notice.

Legal grounds for processing personal data

What are the grounds for processing?

2. Under data protection law, there are six grounds on which we can rely when processing your personal data. In some contexts more than one ground applies. We have summarised these grounds as Contract, Legal obligation, Legitimate Interests and Consent and outline what those terms mean in the following table.

Term	Ground for processing	Explanation
Contract	Processing necessary for performance of a contract with you or to take steps at your request to enter a contract	This covers carrying out our contractual duties and exercising our contractual rights.
Legal obligation	Processing necessary to comply with our legal obligations	Ensuring we perform our legal and regulatory obligations. For example, providing a safe place of work and avoiding unlawful discrimination.

Legitimate Interests	Processing necessary for our or a third party's legitimate interests	We (and third parties) have legitimate interests in carrying on, managing and administering our respective businesses. Part of managing businesses will involve the processing of your personal data. Your data will not be processed if, in processing your data, your interests, rights and freedoms related to the data override the businesses' interests in processing the data for businesses purposes.
Consent	You have given specific consent to processing your data	In general processing of your data in connection with employment is not conditional on your consent. But there may be occasions where we do specific things such as provide a reference and rely on your consent to do so.

Processing sensitive personal data

3. If we process sensitive personal data about you (for example (but without limitation), processing your health records to assist us in ensuring that we provide you with reasonable adjustments during any recruitment process), as well as ensuring that one of the grounds for processing mentioned above applies, we will make sure that one or more of the grounds for processing sensitive personal data applies. In outline, these include:

- Processing being necessary for the purposes of your or our obligations and rights in relation to employment in so far as it is authorised by law or collective agreement;
- Processing relating to data about you that you have manifestly made public (e.g. if you have told us you are ill);
- Processing being necessary for the purpose of establishing, making or defending legal claims;
- Processing being necessary to provide any necessary reasonable adjustments during the recruitment process.

Further information on the personal data we process and our purposes

4. The purposes for which we process your personal data, examples of the personal data that may be processed and the grounds on which we process it are set out in the table below.

The examples in the table cannot, of course, be exhaustive. For example, although the table does not mention personal data relating to criminal offences, if we were to find out that someone applying to work for us was suspected of committing a criminal offence, we might process that information if relevant for our purposes.

Please note that if you accept an offer from us the business will process further information as part of the employment relationship. We will provide you with our full Workplace Privacy Notice as part of the on-boarding process.

Please note that if you accept an offer from us the business will process further information as part of the employment relationship. We will provide you with our full Workplace Privacy Notice as part of the on-boarding process.

Where the personal data comes from

- When you apply to work for us the initial personal data about you that we process is likely to come from you: for example, contact details, bank details and information on your immigration status and whether you can lawfully work. We may also require references and information to carry out background checks. If you have concerns about this in a particular context, you should speak to your recruiter or our HR department.

Please note we may also receive data from third party recruiters, agents and similar organisations as a part of the recruitment process.

Internal use

- Your personal data may be disclosed to our managers, our HR department and administrators for the purposes of your application as mentioned in this document. We may also disclose this to other members of our group and to Omnicom for the same purposes.

External use

- We will only disclose your personal data outside our group if disclosure is consistent with one or more of our legal grounds for processing and if doing so is lawful and fair to you.

We may disclose your personal data if it is necessary for our legitimate interests as an organisation or the interests of a third party, such as if we use a recruitment portal managed by a third-party provider we may send your personal data on to that third party (but we will not do this if these interests are over-riden by your interests and rights in particular to privacy).

We may also disclose your personal data outside the group:

- if you consent to the disclosure;

- (ii) where we are required to do so by law; or
- (iii) in connection with criminal or regulatory investigations.

8. Specific circumstances in which your personal data may be disclosed include:

- Disclosure to organisations that process data on our behalf such as our payroll service, insurers and other benefit providers, our bank and organisations that host our IT systems and data. This would normally occur if you accept an offer from us and would be carried out as part of the on-boarding process;
- To third party recruitment consultants and similar businesses (including online recruitment portals) as a part of the recruitment process.

Retaining your personal data – more information

9. Although there is no specific period for which we will keep your personal data, we will not keep it for longer than is necessary for the purposes described in this Recruitment Privacy Notice. In general if you are successful in becoming employed by us, we will keep your personal data for the duration of your employment and for a period afterwards. If you are unsuccessful in gaining employment with us, we will likely keep your personal data for a short period after informing you that you were unsuccessful. In considering how long to keep your data, we will take into account its relevance to our business and your potential employment either as a record or in the event of a legal claim.

If your data is only useful for a short period (for example, CCTV footage data) we will delete it.

Personal data relating to job applicants (other than the person who is successful) will be deleted in compliance with applicable law.

Transfers of personal data outside the EEA – more information

10. In connection with our business and for employment, administrative, management and legal purposes, we may transfer your personal data outside the EEA to members of our group and processors in the United States and in India, Philippines, Canada and Mexico. We will ensure that the transfer is lawful and that there are appropriate security arrangements.

Although there is no decision by the European Commission that the United States provides an adequate level of protection, we are drafting and will enter into an agreement ensuring appropriate and suitable safeguards with our group members and processors in the United States. These will be on standard terms adopted by the Information Commissioner and approved by the Commission. If you wish to see details of these safeguards, Cindy Murphy and they will be provided as soon as they are available].

Access to your personal data and other rights

11. We try to be as open as we reasonably can about personal data that we process. If you would like specific information about your data, just ask us.

You also have a legal right to make a “subject access request”. If you exercise this right and we hold personal data about you, we are required to provide you with information on it, including:

- Giving you a description and copy of the personal data; and

- Telling you why we are processing it
- If you make a subject access request and there is any question about who you are, we may require you to provide information from which we can satisfy ourselves as to your identity.
- As well as your subject access right, you may have a legal right to have your personal data rectified or erased, to object to its processing or to have its processing restricted. If you have provided us with data about yourself (for example your address or bank details), and the ground for processing is Consent or Contract, you have the right to be given the personal data in machine readable format for transmitting to another data controller.
- If we have relied on consent as a ground for processing, you may withdraw consent at any time – though if you do so that will not affect the lawfulness of what we have done before you withdraw consent.
